June 24, 2015

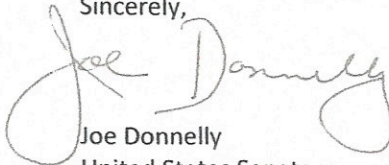

Greetings,

As Indiana's United States Senator, it is my honor and privilege to recognize The Dunham House and its historic significance to our state. President Barack Obama can trace his ancestral lineage to this Hoosier historical site.

Constructed in the 1880s by Indiana State Representative William Riley Dunham, The Dunham House has been a destination of historic significance for 135 years. Year after year, generation after generation, Hoosiers have visited The Dunham House to learn the history and hear the stories of those who have come before us. Today, The Dunham House continues to have an impact on the community as it supports area charitable agencies, including The Julian Center in Indianapolis and the Kokomo Rescue Mission.

On behalf of the citizens of the state of Indiana, I wish to thank the staff and volunteers at The Dunham House for their service to the community. Because of your efforts, our story of Hoosier hard-work and hospitality will be here for generations to come.

Sincerely,

Joe Donnelly
United States Senator
