“ I told him, 'I think we can make a movie out of what you've done,' ... I could not believe that someone hadn't already done something on it. It is the ancestral home and lineage of the president's mother. You didn't have to hit me over the head to convince me that this could be a worthwhile project.

“ I think the Dunham House is an example of how doing a house history can change your life ... Look at what's happened: Shawn buys this older home without realizing it has connections to a rising political star and then the star becomes president of the United States. This becomes, in my opinion, a histor...
